

The background of the entire poster is a reproduction of Raphael's fresco 'The School of Athens'. It depicts various ancient Greek philosophers in a grand architectural setting with arches and columns. Plato is shown at the center, pointing upwards, while Aristotle stands next to him, gesturing towards the earth. Other figures like Socrates, Pythagoras, and Euclid are also visible, engaged in various intellectual activities.

Dying for Time

From Socrates to Lacan and Beyond

Martin Hägglund is a Junior Fellow in the Harvard Society of Fellows, and a Distinguished International Fellow of the London Graduate School and author of Radical Atheism: Derrida and the Time of Life (Stanford U.P., 2008). He will give a public lecture from his forthcoming book Dying for Time (Harvard UP 2012), addressing the relation between time and desire.

His lecture will be followed by a response from Professor Peter Fenves.

Friday, November 18
Kresge 2-360 (Kaplan Seminar Room), 1:30 pm

This visit is sponsored by the Program in Comparative Literary Studies; the Departments of French and Italian, Philosophy, and Religion; the Center for Global Culture and Communication; and the Alice Kaplan Institute for the Humanities.